

THE DOTHAN EAGLE

DOOTHAN, ALABAMA, WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, DECEMBER 2, 1914. FOR I HEARD THEM SAY, LET US GO TO S OTHAN.

RECALL TO RECALL THE PAPER AND CAPTAIN BOY-ED

Berlin, Dec. 7.—(via London.) The request received here from the United States for the recall of Captain Franz von Papen and Captain Karl Boy-Ed, military and naval attachés, respectively, to the German embassy at Washington, will undoubtedly be complied with, in accordance with diplomatic usage, it is stated. However, Germany probably will ask first to be informed of the grounds upon which the United States government bases the undesirability of the attachés.

The above dispatch is the first direct word to be received from Berlin in regard to the probable action of the German government in response to the request of the United States for the recall of the two attachés. Since Germany already has asked Washington for information as to the grounds on which the United States bases its request for a recall, it would appear that this fact had not been made public in Berlin up to the time of the filing of the dispatch.

Uncle Sam Explains Action.
Washington, Dec. 7.—Secretary Lansing has replied to Germany that the United States government's request for the withdrawal of Captain Boy-Ed and Captain von Papen was entirely because of their military and naval activities.

Secretary Lansing's reply to the German government's inquiry, which indicated the Berlin foreign office intended to contest the withdrawal of the attachés under certain conditions, was delivered in a long communication which the German embassy immediately forwarded to Berlin. At the embassy all comment on it was refused.

WAR PICTURES
The Palace Theatre will offer tomorrow "The Great War in Europe" in five reels, said to be authentic moving pictures taken "direct at the firing lines," and showing something of the wonderful armies of Germany and Austria. This film is credited with being authorized by the German general staff, and will doubtless prove an interesting feature.

PRESIDENT WILSON CLOSELY GUARDED

Washington, Dec. 7.—Unusual precautions were taken today to guard President Wilson when he went to the capitol to deliver his annual message. Besides the large bodyguard of secret service men with the president, plain clothes men swarmed the corridors mingling with the crowd and scanning faces. Others were stationed at advantageous posts where every person would be under observation. Employees grey in the service said a president never had been so closely guarded.

Million Bales Wanted At 20 Cents Pound

New Orleans, Dec. 7.—An announcement was made at today's session of the Association of State Presidents of Farmers' unions that the association has in its possession a bona fide offer from one of the chief warring nations of Europe to buy one million bales of cotton at twenty cents a pound.

A committee composed of H. N. Pope, D. E. Lyday and Peter Radford, all of Texas, was appointed to confer with government officials in Washington in an effort to obtain protection for the shipment. It was said the cotton would be sold and forwarded under the supervision of the Farmers Co-operative and Educational Union of America, and that each cotton state would furnish portion of the shipment. The offer, it was stated, specified that the cotton was to be used for domestic purposes only and it was declared the shipment would be assembled in New Orleans for early delivery. Aside from safeguarding the financial part of the transaction, it was said the belligerent government agreed to the appointment by the United States government of a committee to accompany the shipment to see that he cotton is not used in the manufacture of ammunition. Officials withheld the identity of the prospective purchaser.

PENCIL FACTORY IN SHERIFF'S HANDS

Atlanta, Dec. 7.—The National Pencil Factory, which became famous in the Leo Frank case, was taken in hand by the sheriff today for a few hours on account of the failure of the concern to make bond in connection with the verdict of $14,000.

- 5th Grade—J. T. Quattlebaum, Houston Roling, Riley Eddins, Lackey Lambert, Edward Eddins, Griff Trotter.

Greece Playing for Time, Says Writer

Paris, Dec. 7.—The Athens correspondent of The Matin, in a dispatch relative to the attitude of Greece toward the Entente powers, says: "The government is simply playing for time, hoping that the Entente Allies will be forced to the seat by the Austro-Germans and Bulgars. It will be found in a week or so that an agreement between the Greek and allied staffs cannot be reached, and that the government will declare that, notwithstanding Greece's traditional good will toward the Entente powers, it cannot accede to their demands."

The correspondent affirms that the only effective course is to apply a blockade to Greece and adds: "It will be all the more fruitful in results, since popular discontent with the royal policy is growing perceptibly. If the election had been held three weeks ago the Venizelos party would have been beaten, but now, notwithstanding the extraordinary conditions under which they will be held, he is likely to get a majority. A blockade not only would starve the population, but would ruin the mercantile marine, Greece's sole source of wealth. Consequently the general public is deeply agitated and business circles are anxious."

TELEGRAPH SERVICE WILL BE RESUMED

Telegraph service will be resumed on the Atlanta and St. Andrews Bay Railway, connecting with all points along this route. Lineman of the Western Union Telegraph Company have been busy lately installing apparatus, which was taken out when the Western Union and Bay Line road, under the old management, had a disagreement. It is understood the differences have been amicably settled.

CARD OF THANKS.

We want to thank our relatives, friends and neighbors for their sympathy and kindness shown us while our loved one, Grady Granger, lay a corpse at our home. We especially thank those who furnished their cars and so many nice flowers; also the ladies of Granger who prepared such nice dinners for those who went from Dothan to the funeral.

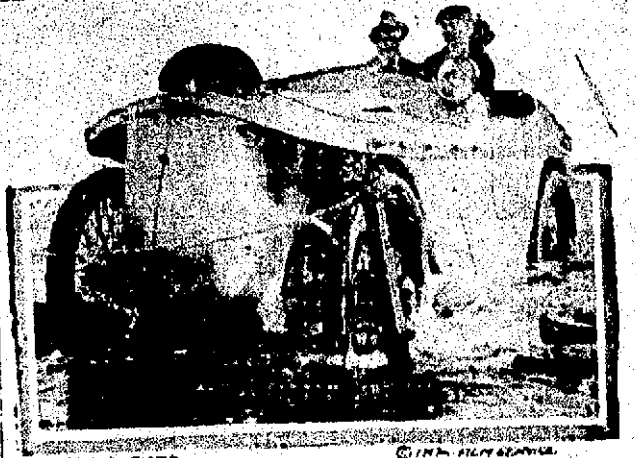

Mrs. Anna Granger.
Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Stephens.

SHOOTS GIRL AND THEN KILLS SELF

Crisfield, Md., Dec. 7.—Hilbert Sterling, 18 years old, was found probably fatally wounded near here late today. She said she had been shot by Chauncey Reese, 27 years old and married, who afterward shot and killed himself. Reese's body was found later.

Recently rendered against it in favor of the Pinkerton Detective Agency. The reason for the seizure was the fact that the company was moving its machinery. Later in the day the required bond was made and the property released.

TRYING OUT NEW LAND-WATER CRAFT AT EXPOSITION

The picture shows the hydro-auto, the latest type of land and water conveyance during a try out at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. On account of the fluid of the exact "metric-center," scientists say, the craft bids fair to be a success. In its trials it showed considerable speed as an automobile on land, and attained between 30 and 40 miles an hour in the water. As the picture shows, it is fitted with both wheels and propellers, and needs no change of mechanism in coming from the water to the land or vice-versa.

9,711,453 Bales Ginned to Dec. 1

The government report, showing the amount of cotton ginned up to December 1, gives the number at 9,711,453 bales, according to the report which was made public today.

St Louis Gets 1916 Democratic Convention

Washington, Dec. 7.—The democratic national committee in session here today selected St. Louis as the meeting place of the 1916 democratic national convention.

The vote on the first ballot was: St. Louis 20, Dallas 14, Chicago 12. Texas then moved to make it unanimous for St. Louis, and this was done. June 14 was fixed as date for the convention.

McCombs Urges Harmony

When the committee met Chairman McCombs said: "We must all co-operate enthusiastically for the full success of the party. This committee can have a wonderful influence in carrying forward the party's success. To my mind, there is no cloud on the democratic horizon, and it is the duty of this committee to see that no cloud shall gather. I shall work with unremitting and undiminished effort to continue the success we have had heretofore, and I want your suggestions and your co-operation."

Thomas J. Pence, assistant to the chairman, was elected secretary pro tempore. Mr. Pence told the committee that there was no truth in reports of discord between Mr. McCombs and himself; that he and the chairman had been and would continue to be in harmony.

Contests Decided

After a short opening meeting the committee went into executive session to decide contests.

BIG STEEL MERGER IS BEING PLANNED

New York, Dec. 7.—Plans are under way for the merging of three large independent steel companies into one concern, which probably will be capitalized at $150,000,000 or more. This combination, if effected, will be larger in scope than the new Malvale Steel and Ordnance corporation. The companies mentioned in the new merger are the Lackawanna Steel company, the Cambria Steel company and the Youngstown Steel and Tube company. These three companies have an authorized capitalization combined of $150,000,000. The Lackawanna Steel company, of Pittsburgh may also be included in the new combining.

SUBMARINE SINKS AMERICAN STEAMER

Dome, Dec. 7.—The American oil steamer, Communipaw, has been sunk by a submarine in the Mediterranean near Trobuck, Tripoli. No information has been received concerning the crew or the nationality of the submarine.

URGES LANSING TO ISSUE PASSPORTS

On Board Steamship Oscar II, by wireless, via Cape Race, Dec. 6.—Governor L. B. Hanna of North Dakota sent a wireless message to Secretary of State Lansing urging him to provide members of the Fair peace party with passports which will enable them to visit belligerent countries.

from Kentucky and Oregon. The Kentucky case was the first to come up.

A permanent committee on resolutions headed by Vincent M. Miles of Arkansas, was appointed. The other members are Clark Howell, Georgia; Thomas Taggard, Indiana; Norman E. Mack, New York, and Thomas H. Browne, Vermont.

DEMOCRATIC AND ASKED BY WOMEN

Washington, Dec. 7.—Women suffragists and anti-suffragists in stirring speeches debated the question of votes for women for an hour today before the national democratic committee.

The committee held public session in a hotel ballroom to hear the women and the place was packed to the doors.

Six suffrage leaders told the committeemen that the women of the nation were looking to the democratic party to champion a federal suffrage amendment, either in the present congress or in the platform of the next democratic national convention. Two leaders of the national society opposed to suffrage argued that the party already had declared that suffrage is wholly a state question and that moreover a majority of American women did not want to be enfranchised.

The committee took no action but the members appeared to enjoy the debate thoroughly and applauded each speaker liberally.

The hearing was arranged because the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage, in convention here this week wanted to tell the committeemen that suffrage had become a national issue. When the union's request went in the National American Women's Suffrage association asked to be heard and then the National Society Opposed to Woman Suffrage sent word to the committee that they could not allow the claims of the suffragists to go unchallenged.

"Not on Your Life," says Clark

Speaker Champ Clark was seated in the front row of the committeemen when the first suffrage delegation went to the platform. A committeeman proposed that he be escorted to a place of honor on the platform. "Not on your life," said Mr. Clark, and he remained on the floor.

Mrs. Florence Kelley, of New York, president of the National Consumers' league, began the debate, speaking briefly of the desire of thousands of American women for the vote. She introduced Mrs. Lily C. Westerbolme, a member of the Utah legislature, who declared that no man in Utah desired the franchise to women recalled.

Miss Frances Joffe, of California, and Mrs. Sara Bard Field, of Oregon, who brought across the continent in an automobile the petition from the women voters of the west asking a federal suffrage amendment, spoke next. They demanded that the democratic congress pass the Susan B. Anthony amendment.

Mrs. Antoinette Funk, vice chairman of the congressional committee of the National Woman Suffrage association, pleaded with the committee to write a suffrage plank into the next democratic platform.

Miss Kate Gordon, a prominent worker in the Southern States Suffrage association, said that the Democratic party held the whole southern situation in its hands. "Give us a hearing before the national democratic convention," she asked.

Favorable Action Not Expected.
As Miss Gordon concluded the solid ranks of standing women separating the purple, white and gold of the suffragists parted and Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge of New York, president of the National Association Opposed to Suffrage, made her way to the platform.

In a brief prepared address she declared that the administration had announced that suffrage was not a question for federal action and concluded: "Having in mind this debate, I am confident that the count up on the record of the Margaret Wilson, the woman committed to further the progress."

DOOTHAN EAGLE NEW OFFICERS

The Dothan County Medical Society met yesterday afternoon at the city hall, started officers for the coming year and discussed for other matters that came up for consideration. Reports were submitted showing the health conditions of the county to be excellent.

The following health officers were elected for incorporated municipalities in the county: Dr. T. M. Barnett, Dothan; Dr. J. E. Yarbrough, Columbus; Dr. R. H. Mooty, Cottonwood; Dr. F. G. Granger, Ashford; Dr. O. L. Hill, Webb; Dr. J. T. Porter, Dothan; Dr. A. S. Prosser, Dothan; Dr. W. H. Williams, Dothan; Dr. S. F. Twitty and J. H. Stovall of Columbia.

HOUSTON FARMER SELLS 12 HOGS

When it comes to real diversification on the farm, hats off to J. H. Matthews, who lives three miles west of town, and plants a little cotton as a side line.

Mr. Matthews brought twelve hogs to town today and sold them to Sanders, Vann and Chalker. They weighed about 2,000 pounds and netted the owner over $112. Mr. Matthews said he experienced no trouble in disposing of the hogs. He could bring two more wagon loads to town for sale if he wanted to. The hogs will be shipped to the packing plant at Mobile, Ga.

"I did not plant much cotton this year," said Mr. Matthews, "and I do not intend to plant much next year."

$100,000 FIRE

Williamson, Mo., Dec. 7.—Fire early today destroyed the Thompson Chemical Laboratory of Williams College with an estimated loss of $100,000. The blaze started in a work room from the first floor, from spontaneous combustion. A valuable library, a quantity of metals and chemicals were destroyed.

Do you want a nice little farm to raise what you want to eat next year? We have two or three we can sell with very small payment, long time on balance. Smith & Morgan.

gains of any group of suffragists."

Mrs. A. J. George of Boston, chairman of the congressional committee of the anti-suffrage organization, made a long argument against suffrage and told the committee that the southern situation in its hands. "Give us a hearing before the national democratic convention," she asked.

Favorable Action Not Expected.
As Miss Gordon concluded the solid ranks of standing women separating the purple, white and gold of the suffragists parted and Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge of New York, president of the National Association Opposed to Suffrage, made her way to the platform.

In a brief prepared address she declared that the administration had announced that suffrage was not a question for federal action and concluded: "Having in mind this debate, I am confident that the count up on the record of the Margaret Wilson, the woman committed to further the progress."

WHAT TO DO WHEN THE BOLL WEEVIL COMES.

Upon Progressive Farmer readers everywhere in newly infested boll weevil territory we would impress the fact that there is no occasion for alarm and panic.

True, the coming of the weevil to any cotton country, particularly south of the latitude of Birmingham and Atlanta, is a serious problem; but no problem has ever been successfully met and solved

by fright and demoralization.

The only proper and sensible course is first to learn what is necessary in the fight against the weevil, and then thoroughly apply what has been found most effective. In aiming at the best plan of effective action, the following suggestions, based on past experience with the weevil, will, we believe, be of value to our readers.

1. In all territory infested this fall for the first time, weevil damage next year will not be heavy—rarely if ever more than 25 per cent. This comparatively light damage the second year is due to the fact that weevils the fall before are not sufficiently numerous to thoroughly infest

all fields, and consequently the number living through the winter is not large.

2. Panic and fright may do more damage than the boll weevil itself. This is a point we would impress especially upon business men in newly invaded territory. We have, in a few instances, known of what virtually amounted to disaster to come with the boll weevil, but where this has been the case it has largely been due to fright; bankers, supply merchants, landlords, refused to continue to extend credit where credit had been the rule, and in other ways plainly showed by their action that they believed that agriculturally "the big was up." Quite true, our credit system is by no means ideal, but to eliminate it or to substitute a better is something that cannot be done over-night.

It is important to understand the seriousness of the situation,

but don't get stampeded.

3. A live-at-home policy is the first step in beating the boll weevil. We believe the majority of our readers will continue to grow

cotton, despite the weevil,

but they can never do this on "store-bought" supplies. The policy of living at home and soil raising is sound the world over,

and the coming of the boll weevil serves to accentuate its

to the Christian Herald, on loving kindness, the loving kindness of the Moabites revealed to her family, and the loving kindness of Boaz, the wealthiest Israelite, to Ruth, his kinswoman. It also contains the germ of that great heartedness which is the center of the gospel of Christian love.

It is a book that opens with tears and famine, and ends with the sound of wedding bells. The story turns upon the straightforwardness of Boaz, who "showed kindness and manliness to Ruth,
a member of a nation that was Israel's foe, and in that kindness founded a new house, the house of Jesse and David, the royal line that beget a greater than David. It was the first mingling of the blood of the Jew and Gentile, symbolic of the economical width of the Christian religion. It was the sign that that religion was not to be found ed upon wealth or upon social caste, but upon the large wholesome love of the human heart.

Boaz is immortal among Bible heroes for his kindness, his plain, everyday generosity, his sense of protection and care for the lonely, unprotected Moabish girl, his dead kinsman's wife, who in her poverty pleaded in his harvest field after the reapers. Boaz gave orders to his reapers that they should allow her to glean even among the sheaves of barley, and by his large-heartedness gained a wife for himself in that immortal company who are renowned for naught but for being kind.

A HIDDEN MESSAGE

Memphis Commercial Appeal.

From far away old Nurem-burg there comes a cry of broken hearts, and it comes hidden in a toy made in the "Santa Claus City."

The story goes that an importer, unpacking a consignment of German-made toys for the Christmas trade, heard something rattle in a magic lantern. Opening the lantern, he found a small,
well-worn purse containing two small coins and a tiny verse written in the language of the toy-makers. Translated the verse ran thus:

"Mary sat in the garden dreaming,
With her child with its dark brown locks.

She was so sweet, so contented—
And as the clouds rolled by the world was dark.

And the child opened its eyes and looked at his mother and laughed."

Instinctively one asks the question: How came the purse in the lantern? The presence of the coins indicates that it was hidden there by the owner, and was either forgotten or lost in the general packing. The loss may have been a sore one, for it possibly represented the savings of days.

But it is the verse that is most interesting. Who was the Mary who sat in her garden—the wife of the toy maker, who was a poet at heart? We can only guess it is so. And the child's first born, and the mother's dream is that world-old wonder as to the glories the future holds for the man-child she has borne.
And the father will come from the shops by and by and together they will build the dream into more shining proportions.

Happy mother, "so sweet, so contented!"

And then the clouds, and the world growing dark. For the clouds are those of war, and the darkness, according to the "call to the colors"—more insistent than the cry of wife and child, more imperative than laws of life—has summoned him away.

Why he must go he does not know; what he is to fight for he is not told. But there are his knapsack and his musket, and the mailed hand of militarism points to his place in the ranks.
A herded beast, he goes forth with other herded thousands to slay or be slain, as the chances of war may fall.

And Mary sits in her garden,
no longer dreaming golden fancies of the future, but silent and terror-stricken; and the one thing that saves her reason is that the child "opened its eyes and looked up at her, and laughed."

This is the cry that comes to us from Nuremberg, from a toy maker living under the shadow of the walls built centuries ago
by that old emperor called Barbarossa. And the pitifulness of the cry is the ignorance of the writer. There is no hate in his heart; he wants peace with his neighbor; with him life is summed up in the willingness to live and let live, and to go from his work to Mary and her garden.
And yet he must forget these and fight as fought the beasts at Ephesus.

It draws near to the Christmas season in old Nuremberg.

Another Mary-mother will soon be acclaimed in the nativity hymn of another child, whose smile has been the benediction of the world. But this year the anthem will sound like a dirge because the greed of kings for power has drenched the lands with blood and widowed the heart of Europe.

Christmas at Nuremberg: Mary waiting in the garden, and the world growing dark—dark—dark!

Xmas Gifts for Man or Boy

Here at Men's and Boys headquarters will be found every article of high grade clothing and furnishings suitable for his Christmas gift. Come see the holiday display. Our windows offer many suggestions.

O. P. GREEN

"Everything Men and Boys Wear"

Books of Interest.

(By Seattle McKnight Fraser.)

As the holidays approach we find ourselves wondering what to hang on the Christmas tree. Some have a day of giving the very gifts for which they themselves have wished-for, "he who judges another passes judgment upon himself." Naturally, the Journalist-in-the-case, feels that every one wants a new book! Thus the ardent hope of the said "newspaper man" is to have a trail along which, each, who is in pursuit of a book may find it. There is an interesting little volume "Twilight Sleep," by Henry Smith-Williams, published by Harper and Brothers, New York, that gives a most interesting story of the morphine-metabolism treatment. When the first article of this, most talked of drug appeared in McClure's Magazine, it was a veritable "little shot that was heard around the world!" Women of all continents rose up and demanded Twilight Sleep. Dr. Williams gives all sides of the history of Twilight; his book is interesting and convincing. It is one of the best stories yet written on the subject.

"The Beauty Book," of Roxana Rion, published by the Elizabeth Towne Co., Holyoke, Mass., is a charming little volume for "women only." This beauty book is unique in that it gives not artificial methods for imitating beauty but simple directions for creating real and lasting beauty through the development of good health. We are prone to read the books that teach our own philosophy—the variety that our ancestors handed down to us! Yet, it might be a good idea for us to read, sometimes, the books that tell of new things—for it is not a bad plan to know of what the rest of the world is thinking. Once a man said to me: "I never read Emerson; I do not believe in his philosophy." Often I have wondered how he knew he did not believe in Emerson's philosophy if he had never read it. The Elizabeth Towne Co., Holyoke, Mass., is publishing a number of books that we will not believe in if we have not read them! "Just How to Concentrate," a tiny price twenty-five cents, is a tiny book that will stir some of our dormant gray matter. There may be in it, for the average reader, a great deal of philosophy that he will not accept but surely the most orthodox of us will agree with Mrs. Towne that "never say hand death to do it with Thy Might—this is concentration." "I must do this—I hate to do it—why should I have to—this tearing your mind (and body) to pieces—drop that, say, 'I choose to do this with all my might." That statement said with determination will set upon your attention and powers." Later the author states: "It is never too late to develop genius by persistent and intelligent practice."

"How to Train Children and Parents," price twenty-five cents, published by Elizabeth Towne Publishing Co., Holyoke, Mass., is a small volume that all parents should read. Every one will gain something from this book for surely every one is interested in children—no one travels his life's road alone, some where some time, some child and he will meet. Mrs. Towne says: "We know that all children are good at heart, and need only the right conditions to manifest it." Again she says, "Be what you want your children to be, but make no professions, remember your child is a looking glass reflecting you. When you see a fault in your child look for the fault in and correct the fault in yourself. By the time you have succeeded in this you will find the child too, has out-grown the fault."

"You and Your Forces," price fifty cents, by the same author, is a book that will make us "sit up and think." The philosophy expressed between its pages teach that there is never a time to hate. There is no one in the world to dislike: "The law of life is love," according to Mrs. Towne. "When I discovered that the law of life is love I tried mightily to feel love for all people and things," states the author. Continuing she said, "I succeeded beautifully with the heathen over in China. But I could not apply it to the vegetable Chinaman and the junk man. I could feel an ocean of love for sinners I never saw, but when Mrs. Blank told Mrs. Talker (and she told me) that she did wish that I would select my hats in better taste, I found it impossible to feel any love for Mrs. Blank. I could walk along the streets and feel a thrill of loving pity for every little homeless cur, but when one trotted with four muddy paws upon my newly scrubbed front steps I felt more like clabbing him than loving him. And I could not fool myself into thinking I wanted to club him because I loved him—I have heard of parents doing so with their children. I could go about some kinds of house work in a perfect transfiguration of love; but when I had to clean lamps or the cook-stove after that jelly had boiled over, I dropped from the seventh heaven with a thud. I gave up trying to feel love, and went to THINKING LOVE. I said 'I choose to love, whether I feel like it or not.' I will send out love to every one and to everything whether I feel like it or not." And I succeeded.

like it or not." And I succeeded.

There is a book published by B. W. Huebner, New York, called "The Other Kind of Girl," that I do not recommend as a story for mere entertainment but the parent who is interested in what some times happens to the "other person's" girl might read it with profit. It is not a book written, as one might judge, for the city sociological student but it is told for the hope of warning parents of the dangers that lurk in the small towns where young people have few wholesome amusements. It is a book that tells the story of "The Other Kind of Girl," if you do not know the depths to which this "eternal Magdalene," who has been with us from time immemorial, descends, it will be better to read it than to find it out in a more heart-rending way.

Another vital book recently published by B. W. Huebner, New York, is "The Philosophy of Art" by Edward Howard Griggs, price $1.50. Mr. Griggs needs an introduction to Alabamians, for nearly every year he lectures in Montgomery. He is not only one of the most popular lecturers who visits the South but he is one of the most revered men who goes before the great Eastern audiences. Mr. Griggs' philosophy of life is so beautiful and sane that he has commanded the attention of even the hurrying masses of the great metropolis. All lovers of real literature will enjoy "The Philosophy of Art." It is a book to possess, it is a volume to live with for it is one of the few modern classics. No one can read this "Philosophy of Art" and not feel that he has drunk at the fountain of eternal inspiration. The author believes that "Art is a serious business" and that "beauty is the most useful thing we know, the ideal is not less real than the earnest material end. Art is for life's sake."

NEW PROLIFIC PEANUT

Combination running and Spanish. Most wonderfully productive, easy to cultivate and greatest hay producer known.

I have carefully examined this new peanut in every stage of growth and, finally, have bought the available supply of seed to scatter over the boll weevil territory, believing they will revolutionize the peanut industry.

These peanuts cost me $1.50 per bushel and I will sell each former one bushel at that price as long as they last. Every boy should plant one acre and clear $200. Don't miss this opportunity by waiting but order now while I can fill your order.

WILLIAMS' SOUVENIR BOOKS

John C. Cox of near vineyard was hunting, by and by two deer appeared at a distance.

Cox, climbed a small pine tree and braced himself. When the deer were within gunshot he fired. But both barrels went off at once and the recoil knocked him out of the tree. As he struck the ground the guncock hit him under the left arm, cutting a deep slash. His left arm was badly bruised by the gun's "kick."

But when he got up and saw one deer dead he forgot his injuries. He was landed (N. J.) Dispatch to New York Herald.

Old Tree Still Fruitful.

Apples plucked from the oldest apple tree on the Pacific coast, in Vancouver, Wash., have been sent to the department of agriculture by a former horticulture inspector of the district. This famous tree is almost ninety years old and produced a fair crop of apples this year. The department will make reproductions of the apples in size, shape and color, and they will be returned and later handed over to the Washington and Oregon Historical societies, with photographs of the old tree and its history.

Lois McKinney—Universal interest is centered in the marriage of Miss Nettie Leslie to Mr. Rawlins McKinney, which occurred Tuesday evening at the home of the bride on East Oakes street.

The wedding was a very quiet one, witnessed only by the immediate family of the bride. Rev. Mr. H. H. McNeill performing the ceremony.

The bride was attired for traveling, her blue tulle with accessories to match being particularly modish and becoming.

Mrs. McKinney is the only daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. George Leslie; she is a petite and fascinating young woman who has endeared herself to a wide circle of friends by her gracious and delightful personality.

Mr. McKinney is originally from Albany, but has made Dothan his home for some time. He is one of the most popular young men in town, and for several years has been a valued employee of the Dothan Grocery Company, where he is held in highest esteem by his co-workers.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinney left at 10:40 for Atlantic City and Jacksonville for a short bridal trip.

D. A. Q. Club—

Mrs. T. H. McIntyre entertained the D. A. Q. Club very delightfully Tuesday afternoon.

Foggy and out flowers were prettily used in the reception hall and living room.

After several exciting games of Auction Bridge a plate lunch was served at the tables.

The club prize was won by Mrs. Ray Jones and the guest prize by Mrs. Ed Hawkins.

Mrs. McIntyre's guests were: Mrs. C. O. Gibson, Mrs. Ray Jones, Mrs. N. E. Chaires, Mrs. Quinn Nix, Mrs. Ernest Ford, Mrs. Morris Ford, Mrs. Ralph Ghent, Mrs. Ed Hawkins, Mrs. Ernest Hussey, and Mrs. Walter Watford.

"UNDER TWO FLAGS."

"No man can serve two masters." Which flag is the flag of your country?

To which is your loyalty due? No man can be true to two banners:

Come! Yellow? Or red, white and blue?

Which Eagle? The one you adopted?

Or the one that is spread on black cross?

Which motto? "E Pluribus Unum?"

Or "Gott mit uns?" Will it be the first?

No honest blood runs through a siphon.

Allegiance is bound by one oath:

Two faiths can't be linked by a hyphen.

You're a Yankee or Teuton—not both!

American are you, or German?

Free man, or autocracy's dupe?

Where stand you? By these States united.

Or "Fatherland," Kaiser and Krupp?

Quit talking and writing rank treason.

While under Old Glory you stand.

Or break with us, fairly and squarely.

And GO!—with your heart in your hand.

But, look you! you're with or against us.

You gather or scatter abroad.

Make choice, like brave man, of your duty.

Then gird on a patriot's sword.

We honor a gallant opponent.

Respect a conviction sincere.

But daunted be the man with two faces!

Let him get to hell out of here!

You're a friend or you're a foe of the Union.

Leal, loyal, or traitor accurst.

New Century Club—

A splendid meeting of the New Century Club was held Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. W. W. Barnett.

The lovely home so well suited for entertaining was prettily decorated in roses, chrysanthemums and ferns.

After the meeting a delicious lunch was served, Mrs. George Malone, Mrs. Arthur Malone and Miss Sue Malone, assisting.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. G. H. Malone. A report from the library directors, who met with the council Monday evening was given by Mrs. W. C. Fritter.

A collection was taken for the purpose of buying a Victrola, to be used by the Educational Committee in their work, among the rural schools.

The program was as follows:

Afar in the Forest.

Roll Call: Tell something of Robin Hood or some other famous outlaw.

Paper: "Robin Hood and His Merry Men," written by Mrs. R. C. Williams and read by Mrs. George Malone.

A Description of a Forest in Old England, Mrs. A. T. Marchman.

Narration: The scene between the King and the Hermit, written by Mrs. J. M. Stevens and read by Miss Sue Malone.

Reading: "The Barefooted Friar," Mrs. M. S. Davie.

SAVAGE WOMEN HEALTHY.

The savage lives in the open, eats simple foods, knows nothing of household drudgery or social life, gets plenty of sleep and exercise and is perfectly healthy and strong, but the civilized woman is a slave to home duties and society, often becomes run-down, nervous and physically unfit to be a companion or wife. Our local druggist N. H. McCullum, has a reliable, non-secret remedy that is a boon to such women, its component parts being peptonate of iron for the blood, the nourishing properties of beef peptone and the medicinal extracts of fresh, healthy cod's livers, all dissolved in a delicious native wine. It is really wonderful how rapidly weak, run-down women are built up by its use.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Sage Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up. Instant Relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hacking, sneezing, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just this. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

KEYTON SCHOOL NOTES

Owing to the cold weather this week the adult class has fallen off some in attendance but we are not going to give up. We are going to meet at the home in the community and work three nights in each week. Professor Tolleson called Wednesday night and watched the class work some. He commended them for the efforts they were putting in their work. The boys and girls organized themselves into the Keyton Literary Society Friday evening and will render a program each Friday afternoon. The officers are as follows: Floyd Boyett, president; Mary Lee Camp, vice president; Floyd Kelly, secretary. Program committee. Pearle Denny, Sadie Carroll and Clyde Camp.

to make our boys and girls present of new pat-ent clocks for Christmas but the county board has delayed us owing to their failure to give us their endorsement for state aid to which we feel ourselves entitled, but we will not relax our efforts. We will do our best for them anyway.

The visitors this week were L. G. Holland, T. E. Butler and Elizabeth Nobles.

We will observe cleanup Friday.
